Republicans Will Rally At Wailuku Tonight and At Kahului Tomorrow

Last Week of Campaign Brings Out Activity and Meetings Are Scheduled for Afternoons and Evenings; Final Words Will be Spoken on Friday; Baldwin Enthusiasm Grows.

Rally for Baldwin! Tonight is the first big general rally for the Republican candidate in Wailuku and it will be followed tomorrow night by a similarly big affair in Kahului. The Wailuku Rally will be at the Hipp and the Harbor Town meeting will be in the Kahului Theater.

Some changes in the program that was arranged yesterday for the Wailuku meeting of tonight may be made today by the addition of other out of town speakers who may have arrived this morning but yesterday afternoon a tentative program was laid out with several local speakers who have not been heard in public before and with former Mayor John C. Lane of Honolulu as the chief speaker of the evening. Good music will be rendered in three or four intermissions in the speaking program and films will be shown at the opening and at the close of the meeting.

Following musical numbers and roaring comedy picture the meeting at the Hipp, announced for 7:30 tonight, will be called to order by H. B. Penhallow. There will be a novelty for political meetings on Maui through the introduction of several women speakers in the course of the evening. The tentative speakers and order of speaking will be as follows:

E. R. Bevins, Mrs. Wilkinson, J. Garcia, orchestral music, Mrs. Clem Crowell, Charles Wilcox, M. G. Paschoal (if he returns from the Big Island as expected), former Mayor C. Lane of Honolulu, orchestral music, Mrs. Sarah Buck, J. P. Cockett, George Cummings, music by the orchestra, a motion picture.

Today's Meeting

Prior to the Wailuku meeting of tonight there will be precinct meetings held at Waihehu at 4:30, Waihehu at 5:30 and Waikapu at 6:30. At all such meetings there will be music, as at the Hipp rally, and there will be prominent speakers. The Wailuku rally will be at the church, at Waihehu on the road near the blacksmith shop and on the main road in Waikapu.

For the Kahului meeting tomorrow night it is expected that Senators John Wise and Stephen R. Desha will have arrived and it is also probable that Senator Baldwin will be able to arrange to attend. There will be other prominent speakers including Senator Rice and good music will be furnished by the orchestra that has been engaged. Moving pictures will also be shown. That rally is a combination of, in reality, of Puunene and Kahului.

Another meeting for tomorrow is scheduled to be held at 4:30 in the afternoon Kihel at Kaonoulu Ranch.

Thursday's schedule calls for meetings at Makawao, at Tam See's store at 5:00 o'clock and at the Fernandez Theater at 7:30 and the more prominent speakers are expected at both.

Final Rallies Friday

Friday night will end the speaking campaign, two big rallies, one at Wailuku and one at Lahaina with the best speakers making both of them. Details of the probable speakers have not been fully completed but will be announced in the Friday issue of Maui News.

Last Friday afternoon a meeting was held in the Church at Waihehu which was addressed by the same men speakers as had been heard at the meeting at which the Woman's Auxiliary was formed in Wailuku.

Sunday was a busy day and meetings were held up country. There was a meeting at Ulupalakua and a bumper big one for Kula at the Sanitarium. At Ulupalakua, E. R. Bevins, Clem Crowell, Charles Wilcox, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Crowell and Mrs. Buck, Ned Wilcox presided. At Kula Louis Fernandez presided and in addition to the speakers who had been at Ulupalakua John C. Lane, J. Garcia and Guy Goodness spoke.

At Makawao there was a bumper meeting all except perhaps a dozen of the voters of the precinct being there and at Pauwela there was another big meeting, the chief speakers at those meetings being John C. Lane and Senator Rice.

Meetings in Lahaina

In Lahaina yesterday afternoon there was a women's meeting which was attended by numbers from this side. More than 200 women of West Maui were in the theater and a Baldwin club was organized with Mrs. Lloyd as president; Mrs. Buchanan, vice-president; Mrs. Freudenburg, secretary and Mrs. Gossin, treasurer. District or precinct captains were also selected. Several speakers were heard including Prof. Leebick, Mrs. Crowell and Senator Rice who explained that the organization formed was not permanent but for the Baldwin campaign. Much enthusiasm prevailed throughout the meeting and the women of West Maui are in the battle for a sweeping Baldwin victory.

Last night a bumper meeting was held under the banyan tree at Lahaina. There the chief speaker was John C. Lane and others were Frank F. Baldwin, J. Garcia, Mrs. Apo, Mrs. Wilkenson, Charles Wilcox and J. P. Cockett. Enthusiasm ran high at the meeting. Sam Kalama and Peruvia J. Goodness returned from Honolulu on the Kilauea this morning and may have something to tell of the campaign on the outside at tonight's rally.

Honolulu is Seething

In Honolulu the political pot is bubbling to the point of boiling over. The soap box is working overtime and meetings are scheduled for afternoon's and evenings from now until Friday night when the big closing rallies of both parties are to be held in Aala Park.

Republican leaders are expressing confidence and say the only changes of defeat are over confidence and failure to get the Baldwin vote Saturday. They are urging a "vote first" policy.

Governor Farrington Speaks for Baldwin

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, March 21—Governor Farrington, speaking at a Republican Rally last night, paid high tribute to the work that was done by the late Prince Kuhio, while delegate. He added that Kuhio's last statement, almost a death bed statement were: "I shall not run for delegate again and I haven't a candidate in mind to succeed me but I will support the accredited nominee of the Republican party whoever he or she may be and I hope all my friends will do likewise."

The Governor said the "one outstanding responsibility in the election of next Saturday is the election of the Republican candidate. As loyal friends of the late Prince, we are bound to see his work carried out. The election of a Republican will strengthen our position in congress. All that is necessary is for us to exercise the same common sense we show in our conduct of business."

He described Baldwin as a selection by the rank and file of the party, unbossed, unthreatened and untrammelled.

Senator Baldwin, John Wise, Senator Desha, S. P. Correa and A. L. Castle addressed another meeting. McCandless in addressing a Democratic meeting assailed the Republican party of Hawaii for its conduct of affairs and gave figures intending to show that increased taxes has resulted from the Republican administration of the territory for the past 20 years.

Mayor Wilson and County Attorney Heen also spoke.

Lloyd George Will Ask Vote Confidence

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, March 21—Chamberlain announced this afternoon that Lloyd George will resume his place in the house of commons and will ask a vote of confidence upon the government's policy in regard to the Genoa conference.

Chancellor Sir Robert Horne in discussing Britain's debt to the United States said: "I do not propose to make any conditions for the American government as to payment of our obligations which are due."

Military Honors Rendered Mattos

Body of Maui Boy Who Was Killed on the Field of Action Brought Home and Laid to Final Rest

Anthony R. Mattos, the only son of Maui, so far as the records show, who laid down his life for world safety in France, was laid to rest in Kuao cemetery Sunday afternoon with military honors. His funeral pageant was the longest the Paia district has seen in many years and was one that will be long remembered. The procession from house to church is estimated to have been nearly half a mile in length and in it was the Maui branch of the American Legion and the Lahaina national guard company under command of Captain Bowker.

Time for preparations for the funeral of Mattos were short for it was not known certainly when the body, brought to the islands by the trans-Logan would be sent here from Honolulu, but short as was the time the arrangements were excellent and were perfectly carried.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Ramos his uncle and aunt the flag draped casket was brought out upon the lanai and American Legion services were conducted with E. B. Wicke presiding and W. F. Crockett, Jr. acting as chaplain. A prayer was also offered by the catholic priest. Then the body was taken in charge by the National guard and escorted from house to church where the catholic services were conducted by Rev. Father Justin and there was singing by a quartet of the catholic brothers.

Again the casket was taken in charge of the military and carried from church to the grave where there were further catholic services and ceremonies by the American Legion. Members of the latter removed the flag as the casket was lowered into the grave and gave it to the aunt and uncle of Mattos. Then a firing squad of eight fired a volley over the grave of the dead hero and the sad and solemn notes of "taps" from two bugles sounded forth on the air and the ceremonies ended.

Every former officer and most of the privates of the war time days who are on Maui and were within reach of Paia attended the ceremonies and the Lahaina company of the National Guard was brought over in motor trucks under arrangements of Captain Bowker. The ceremonies were sad and solemn but beautiful in their simplicity at the final home coming of the heroic son of Maui.

Legion Urges Harding Support Langley Bill

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 20—Urging the support of the Langley bill now pending before congress, providing an appropriation for hospital construction, a committee of Legionnaires visited President Harding today. The committee also urged the transfer of ex-soldiers from health service supervision to the veterans bureau.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 20—President Harding, director of the veterans bureau Forbes Dawes and J. B. Payne of the American Red Cross discussed changes in the governments plans for a hospital for the disabled veterans, to meet the legions criticism. Their decision will be made public tomorrow.

Huge Bootlegging Ring Uncovered in Florida

MIAMI, Florida, March 20—(Associated Press)—Revenue officers have reported to Prohibition Director Haynes of the uncovering of a bootlegging ring in Miami that is so thoroughly organized that its contracts are backed by bankers who also act as trustees for the funds received covering large sales.

WASHINGTON, March 20—(Associated Press)—Haynes said the arrest of several prominent business men of Florida was indicated imminent according to the revenue agents reports from Miami.

Spreckles Looks For Further Declines in Price of Raw Sugars

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

NEW YORK, March 21—Claus Spreckles, president of the Federal Sugar Refining Company, is pessimistic on sugar prices upon his return from Europe. He regards the recent advances to as high as 4.17 within the past few days as "only a flash in the pan." He predicts an early reaction as inevitable. Spreckles says the recent rise has tended to further stimulate European productions that Europe is now self supporting in sugar production.

Hughes Resents Senate Attacks

Denies Secret Agreement with Britain and Hopes no Further Unwarranted Aspersions Will Be Cast

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 21—Republican party leaders held a protracted conference with President Harding at the White House last evening the Four Power treaty being discussed at length. Among the conferees were Lodge, John S. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, Senator McCormack, chairman of the Republican senatorial committee and Senator Curtis, the Republican "whip." The presence of such party chiefs caused an inference that the probable effect of the treaties upon the next congressional elections was the subject under discussion but some of those present said the primary purpose of the meeting was to give Harding the latest line-up on the treaties and their ratification. It was said that they assured Harding that there were sufficient votes for the ratification. Harding is said to have again intimated his approval of the foreign relation committee's reservation that "no alliance is constituted."

alter the President met with 2 Democratic senators, Smith of South Carolina and Kendrick. Neither the subjects discussed nor the results of the conference were announced.

Yesterday Senator Robinson attacked the treaty in its present form as dangerous. He urged amendments binding the signatories against any other secret pacts.

Borah criticised the Shantung agreement and said that China could not redeem Shantung under the terms laid down at the conference. He predicted that Japan will never release Shantung.

Secretary Hughes has sent a letter to Secretary Lodge flatly denying the charges that were made yesterday in the senate to the effect that a secret understanding relative to future conduct in the Pacific was reached between the delegates of the United States and Britain during the arms limitation conference. He said he hoped he would see no more "aspirations" cast upon the honor and veracity of the American delegates.

Hughes' letter was presented to the senate by Lodge and has precipitated a new and warmer debate on the four power pact.

Mauna Kea May Land At Mala Wharf on Tomorrow's Trip

Mala wharf may be used by the Mauna Kea for the first time on her Friday trip, according to the report of Lyman H. Bigelow, chairman of the harbor board and superintendent of public works, who was on Maui Saturday. He said the Inter-Island Company had told him it had a big shipment of cans for the pineapple cannery and might send them over by the Mauna Kea on that trip, making the wharf landing. Bigelow reported satisfaction with the job that has been done on the wharf at Lahaina.

In answer to the query about the reported difficulty it was said the Mauna Kea might have in landing, that it would require moving her life boats to come alongside. Bigelow said he thought it would be unnecessary on nearly all occasions, unless she were loaded exceptionally deep with freight. He said the Kilauea has no difficulty in making Hana wharf, does not have to move boats to do so and the Mala wharf is the same height above water as is the wharf at Hana.

As to reported current making it unlikely the Inter-Island would use the wharf Bigelow said Mala is like a mill pound as compared with a mill race when taken into comparison with the currents that are encountered in San Francisco harbor, has a current that moves only half a knot an hour. He thinks as soon as the skippers get used to the landing there will be no difficulty in its use.

Relative to Kahului wharf Bigelow said he expected a dredger would be in the harbor at work early next month. Work is going on steadily at Kahului.

Direct Election of President is Sought

WASHINGTON, March 21—Proposal to lengthen the presidential term and for a direct election of the president and vice president have again appeared. Representative Wood has introduced in the house a bill calling for the submission of a constitutional amendment to those effects. Wood's bill provides for the lengthening of the presidential term from four to six years. It would abolish the electoral college and the candidate receiving the highest popular vote at a presidential election would become president while the next highest would become the vice-president.

Attorney General Says Contract For Alae Road Invalid

Piliikia has arisen over the contract for the Alae Homestead road for which the board of supervisors as agent for the land board made the award at its last meeting. Work on the contract was started by J. G. Freitas, to whom the award was made for $13,800.

This morning a letter came from C. T. Bailey, commissioner of public lands, to County Attorney Bevins saying that the attorney general had refused to approve the contract as to form and that the contract must be between the County of Maui and the contractor as under Act 177 the land commission could not let a contract to a third party. The work if done by the county would have to be at cost as provided by law. He asks the board of supervisors to reject all bids.

Work on the Alae homestead road has been held back for a long time because the county held it must do the work or would not assume responsibility for it while Bailey insisted that the county should act as agent for the land commission. Finally the supervisors receded from their position, advertised for tenders and let the contract.

Just what the outcome will be remains to be determined.

Doughboys on Rhine Will Return by July

WASHINGTON, March 20—(Associated Press)—Secretary of War Weeks, has issued orders directing all American troops on the Rhine to be returned to the United States by July first. Weeks explained that his action was merely a continuation of his policy previously announced for the withdrawing of troops. He said he was not influenced by the status of the Army legislation recently enacted by congress or controversy over the payment by Germany for the upkeep of the troops while on her territory.

Opposes Reduction

Secretary Weeks flatly opposed the House committee's proposal to cut the army to 115,000. He said the War department recommended 150,000 including 70,000 Philippine scouts and was convinced that the army would not be safe below that figure. Weeks told the committee that there was about 140,000 men in the service at present. He also took a sharp issue with the committee's proposal to limit the size of the garrison in Hawaii and Panama and said he would not accept responsibility for any reductions in these garrisons but that he felt differently regarding the Philippine garrisons where with 70,000 of the Philippine constabulary are available and where its military defense is covered in the pending treaties. He said it appeared that reductions might be possible.

Stimulous in Building Releiving Unemployed

WASHINGTON, March 20—(Associated Press)—Marked stimulation in home building in the last three months was reported by the department of commerce today. Building contracts in 27 northern and eastern states aggregated $101,000,000 in December and $75,000,000 each in the months of January and February. Statistics from the department of labor show that 10 out of 14 principle industries have increased their number employed and the other four a decrease.

Smaller Military Forces Seems Sure

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 21—Reduction of the numerical strength of the army is certain unless the senate develops a sentiment for an army of 150,000 strong enough to overcome the objections of the members of the lower house.

Secretary of War Weeks has been sounding out sentiment in conference with various congressional leaders and says he can see little prospect of the house agreeing to a larger armed force than 115,000 enlisted men. He expressed the hope that the senate will insist on a force of 150,000.

The House appropriation sub-committee has made drastic cuts in the estimate of needs for the navy department. The bill which will be reported out Saturday provided for 65,000 instead of 90,000 enlisted men as recommended by the navy department and carries $200,000,000 instead of $350,000,000. It authorizes the commissioning of only 153 of the 541 in the class that will be graduated from Annapolis in June.

NEW YORK, March 21—Philip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers announced this morning that the order to coal miners to suspend work will be issued late today.

Raymond's Wrath Rises High; Says Will Reorganize

Maui Man Announces His Candidacy for November if McCandless is Beaten and Insists Reorganization

Dr. J. H. Raymond is sore. He is so sore that he has decided to seek the democratic nomination for delegate to congress next fall at the regular election. He says the democratic party needs reorganization badly and he is going to proceed with such reorganization. He sees a "plot" to discredit him with the party in the stories that were told in Honolulu to the effect that he was assisting the campaign of Mary Acherly financially and he has told all this to the Honolulu public through the Star-Bulletin which published front page stories on the subject on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Dr. Raymond arrived in Honolulu Thursday morning and was forthwith interviewed by a Star-Bulletin reporter to whom he characterized the reports that had been circulated about him to be nothing but attempts to injure him politically. At that time he announced that he will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for delegate to congress at the next regular election.

In his interview Dr. Raymond told of Mrs. Acherly calling up his home at Ulupalakua on her arrival at Lahaina about midnight to know why his car was not there to meet him. Mrs. Raymond answered the phone message and he refused to talk to Mrs. Acherly. He told of Clarence Pringle telling him of his grievances against McCandless and of requests for funds for Mrs. Acherly at a later Honolulu visit and his refusal.

The article in which Raymond is quoted as calling for reorganization published on Friday, said in part:

"Link's" Swan Song

"But in any event, Dr. Raymond continued, he feels sure that a majority of the Democrats have concluded that this should be McCandless last effort toward seeking the position of delegate to Congress."

"In the event that McCandless is defeated March 25," said the doctor, you can take it from me that there will be an effort, a strong effort and a very decided effort on the part of myself and others to reorganize the Democratic party in Hawaii and place it upon the highest possible plane, politically and in every other way."

"Unless there is a reorganization of the Democratic party following the forthcoming election, I, for one, will be inclined to have nothing further to do with it. Unless I can get a cooperative force in the Democratic party to bring about a reorganization, then I will be inclined to have nothing further to do with the political game."

Was Asked to Run

Dr. Raymond says that prior to the convention he was asked by a large number of Democrats and received letters from many others containing a similar request to become a candidate for delegate.

"I declined solely for the reason that I believed this was McCandless' best chance."

In yesterday's Star Bulletin there was published an interview with Awana who said he was joking and fishing for information when he told Ah Nee that Raymond had contributed to Mrs. Acherly's campaign fund and says that he is sorry now that he did so.

Baldwin's Help For Foresters is Told At Hilo Meeting

Speaking in Hilo last Thursday night Representative M. G. Paschoal told his hearers some of the things that Baldwin has done for the Order of Foresters. He is quoted in the Hilo Tribune in part as follows:

"We have the Order of Foresters on Maui, just as you have here, and last year we thought it time we had a home, for we had been homeless all before that. We went to Baldwin for a piece of land at Kahului, and we received a lot on the main street absolutely free of cost. Then we raised $20,000 among our members, and we are not rich men; we are laborers. We asked for bids for our building; the lowest was $38,000 and the highest was $46,000. We could not go ahead, and again the boys asked me to call on Baldwin and see if he could help us. He called the carpenter of the plantation, asked him to go over the plans and told me to call next day I did, and he told me he would give me everything from the Kahului railway at cost and have the plantation men erect our building for us. Then he turned to the carpenter and said, 'Go ahead!' That was in February and in June it was completed, including all our furniture and a piano and the total cost was a little less than $30,000. We saved practically $9,000 and that was for the poor man. Mr. Baldwin did not know then that he was going to run for Congress; it was done for the poor man."
